Techni-Tool is named Huntron's exclusive USA distributor

Worcester, Pennsylvania (October, 2014) –Techni-Tool is proud to announce that they have been named exclusive United States distributor by Huntron, Inc. Founded in 1976, Huntron has built a reputation as a leading manufacturer of tools for engineers and technicians who test, diagnose, and troubleshoot printed circuit assemblies and other electronic assemblies.

Huntron produces test equipment and tools such as Access Probers, Integrated Test Systems, accessories and Trackers. This includes their renowned 2800 and 2800S Series Trackers, designed to complement conventional test instruments in the debug and troubleshooting process by comparing the signatures of known good circuit boards to suspect ones, quickly identifying faulty components and eliminating the risk of further circuit damage.
